

Philosophy course

two streams Keith Purdie Thursdays, 2-4 pm Hammond Centre, Christchurch, Henna St... 12-15 people, closed sessions.

Continuing stream (fortnightly)

This is for people who were members of the philosophy group in 2022. First semester 2023 will include: (a) an introduction to ethics in philosophy, (b) an introduction to the thought of some recent women philosophers.

Introductory Stream (fortnightly alternating with above)

Should eight or more new people enrol in philosophy for the first time, a second course will be run for people new to the subject. This will explore the basics; (a) What is philosophy? (b) When and where did philosophy begin? (c) What are the fields and major issues in philosophy today?

OR

One stream only

In the event that very few enrol in philosophy for the first time Keith will only run the continuing stream but will incorporate some introductory material into the first few sessions of the group for the benefit of any new members.
